Hunterdon Commissioner Attends NACo Conference To Represent The County And Collaborate With Colleagues On Policy Issues

Commissioner Susan J. Soloway recently attended the National Association of Counties 2022 Annual Conference & Exposition in Adams County, Colorado, the largest meeting of county elected and appointed officials from across the country, to engage with peers from the around the country to spotlight issues facing county government.

Commissioner Soloway attended a variety of educational workshops at the conference and noted, "I focused a great deal of my time and energy on attending seminars related to utilizing information technology to transform governmental operations and deliver better constituent services."

Participants from counties of all sizes come together to shape NACo's federal policy agenda, share proven practices, and strengthen knowledge networks to help improve residents' lives and the efficiency of county government.

"I was honored represent Hunterdon County at this event and have the opportunity to collaborate with colleagues from across the country on public policy issues impacting county governments," Soloway concluded.

Founded in 1935, NACo provides services to the nation's 3,069 counties. NACo's membership totals more than 2,350 counties, representing more than 80 percent of the nation's population.
